INFORMATION REGARDING CHAINWAYS PACKAGES AND SERVICES

Prior to entering into the contract, you need to carefully consider whether or not you understand how each of the contracted Packages works, how Digital Assets are traded and how the blockchain technology works in order to assess whether or not you afford to take the high risk of losing all of the Digital Assets you shall use in the performance of the Contract.

The information or materials forwarded by CHAINWAYS are for advertising purposes and have educational or informational purposes only, they are not and cannot be deemed as recommendations to purchase / sell / retain a particular Digital Asset, they are not and should not be treated as indications or advice regarding trading strategies applied to demo or actual accounts.

CHAINWAYS assumes no liability for the outcome of the transactions based on or influenced by any of the above information. CHAINWAYS offers its services exclusively for the management / administration of Digital Asset portfolios. CHAINWAYS acts as a trustee by managing a common portfolio of Digital Assets that are transmitted by the Clients in order to achieve the Common Purpose.

CHAINWAYS warns its clients and potential clients of the high risks involved in trading Digital Assets (including but not limited to the listing, the fluctuation of the prices of Digital Assets on the relevant markets, the yields and/or profits, the fluctuation of the exchange rate, the risk of losing the entire investment).

INFORMATION REGARDING CHAINWAYS PACKAGES AND SERVICES

CHAINWAYS may use leverage trading mechanisms at its discretion. This leverage effect can lead to the multiplication of both profits and losses caused to the CHAINWAYS portfolio. The Client shall exonerate CHAINWAYS from any liability in this regard.

CHAINWAYS warns the Clients that the past performances are not guarantees of any future performances. As a result, CHAINWAYS highly recommends its clients or potential clients to approach such Digital Assets and Digital Asset portfolio management services only after understanding the operating mechanism and the risks and after a prior documentation that is as accurate and complete as possible.

INVESTMENT APPROACH

Transacting with digital assets from the top 10 list according to market capitalisation

Deploying no more than 50% of the fund available into current active trades, in order to keep reserves for balancing outcome of unforeseen market movements

Opened, diversified portfolio pooled investor money

Trading in periods of 6 months, taking advantage of short term volatility by entering both short and long positions to fully capitalise on market movements in other direction

Trading is mainly but not exclusively based on: fundamental analysis, technical analysis, market news and analysis

RISK VS GAIN

Being a relatively new and largely unregulated market, investment into digital currency and blockchain projects is classified as a risk investment

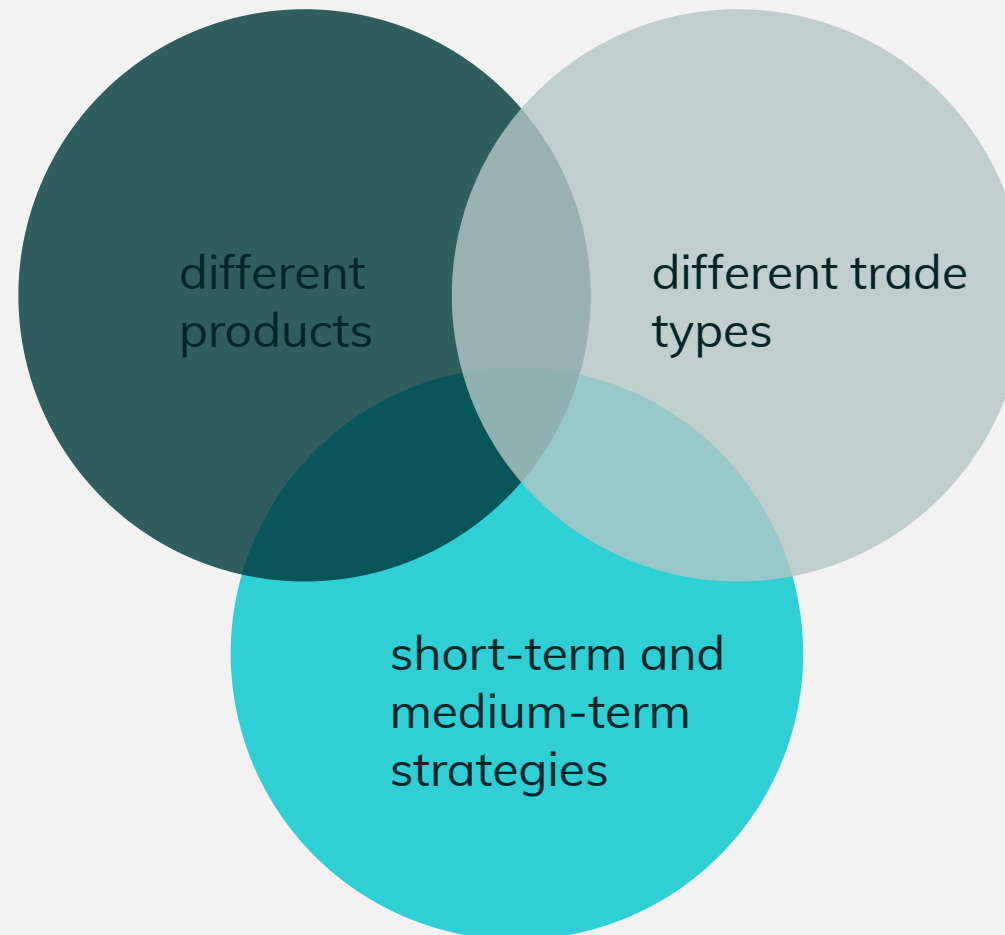

While CHAINWAYS has a proven track record and demonstrated high capability for trading and investing in digital currency, this is by no means a guarantee for future performance

However, the conservative approach of keeping funds in reserve to balance out effects of a single unsuccessful trade reduces risk significantly

RISK MANAGEMENT

Traditional and conservative risk control techniques

- Risk management is built into the trade selection process
- Risk is managed pre-trade, post-trade and at the portfolio level
- Risk is allocated to short-term and medium-term strategies
- Risk is diversified across:

- Operational issues are closely monitored
- Checklists used ensure compliance with all risk management procedures
- Focus on capital preservation and profit retention
- Double layer of the risk management: at the trade and portfolio level

RISK MANAGEMENT

PRE-TRADE AND POST-TRADE

Pre-trade

- Risk management is built into trade selection process
- What is driving the current dislocation or opportunity?
- What are future scenarios to drive trade profit or loss?
- What are the market and operational risks to the trade?
- What risk factors or events invalidate the trade and how should we react to them?
- How is the trade best implemented?
- Does this trade reduce portfolio risk?

Post-trade

- Daily review of trades
- Trade P&L history is compared to pre trade plan
- Are trade plan assumptions still valid?
- How close is trade to reduce, stop loss or take profit levels?
- How sensitive has the trade been to the absolute market level?
- How any new risk factors developed?
